Service Addendum - e-Commercial Statement

Banco Popular, through e-Commercial Statement service, sends the commercial account statement electronically to the account owner (You) through Secure Email. Secure email is the secure delivery of encrypted information.

I. Service

A. You contract the service through the Bank Relationship Offi cer and select the receiving method. You can choose to substitute the paper account statement for the electronic PDF format, this change will not have any additional charge, but if you want to receive the account statement in both formats, PDF and paper, there will be an additional charge of ten dollars ($10.00) by statement.

B. The Bank will send an email for each account registered in the Service, by the fourth business day from the account cut off time.

C. You are responsible to save the account statement fi le, because the next statement will replace the actual one. If You do not save the account statement, a copy can be obtained by calling Commercial TeleBank (787) 756-9130 or toll free number 1(888) 756-9130.

D. The Bank's responsibility is limited to send the account statement to the email address that You provide.

E. The Bank does not have the responsibility of verifying if in effect You or the designated person received the information. To this effect You release the Bank of any responsibility for damages that may occur to You or any other person as result of using the e-Commercial Statement service.

II. Service Charges

You will pay the service charges to the Bank, as stipulated in Addendum I, which is part of this Service Addendum.

III. Terms

A. This Contract will be in effect for a year starting from the signature date. At the end of the year, it will be renewed automatically every year.

B. Any of the parts may end this Contract, at any moment, upon written notice thirty (30) days prior to the effective date of the change.
